Though it doesn't flow as well the sense might be best rendered by, "Can two walk (they) united-as-one except they-have-made-an-agreement to be agreed." They walk as they have continued to abide in that agreement as the Hebrew is not strictly past tense but an ongoing agreement. This is put first as this is the sum of the Covenant relationship. This is the heartfelt desire of Yahweh that his people may walk in unity, together as one in his ways (his statutes and commandments).

Can two walk together, except they be agreed? - BibleTruths

On Christmas day, six months before I married, my fiance gave me a new Bible in which she inscribed a little note and an obscure reference from the Old Testament: “Can two walk together, except they be agreed?” ¹ This was originally spoken by God to the nation Israel, but it also contains a practical message for every couple who would like to enjoy a successful marriage today. Each must agree to do his or her part before the Lord.
