Reparations for slavery is the application of the concept of reparations to victims of slavery and/or their descendants. There are concepts for reparations in legal philosophy and reparations in transitional justice. In the US, reparations for slavery have been both given by legal ruling in court and/or given voluntarily (without court rulings) by individuals and institutions.

Reparations: Interdisciplinary Inquiries, a compilation edited by Jon Miller and Rahul Kumar, attempts a comprehensive overview of reparations for historical and mass human rights violations. It encompasses the interesting debate on the search for a political theory that justifies reparations; presents the limitations of the notions behind this search; and provides arguments to help define who might be entitled to reparations, who might be responsible for paying reparations and what ...

Reparations Interdisciplinary Inquiries

Reparations is an idea whose time has come. From civilian victims of war in Iraq and South America to descendents of slaves in the US to citizens of colonized nations in Africa and south Asia to indigenous peoples around the world--these groups and their advocates are increasingly arguing for the importance of addressing historical injustices that have long been either ignored or denied.
