The Centurion's Son (Path of Nemesis #1) by Adam Lofthouse

The centurion may have been mindful that Jesus would be considered ceremonially impure if He came into a Gentile's house (as mentioned in a different context in Acts 10:28) and therefore stood outside the house, so that if Jesus persisted in coming to the centurion, He would not be defiled.

The Bible mentions several Roman centurions. The man overseeing Jesus' crucifixion was a centurion (Matthew 27:54), probably one of lower seniority. It was a centurion who exclaimed at the foot of the cross, "Surely this man was the Son of God!" (Mark 15:39).

The Centurions (band) - Wikipedia

A centurion was a commander over a hundred soldiers in the Roman army. He was looking for Jesus because he had a servant who was very dear to him and the servant was so sick that he was going to die. When the centurion heard about Jesus healing people who were sick, he sent word to the elders and pleaded with them to ask Jesus to come and heal ...

Lexicons frequently define παῖς in three senses: in relation to descent (son, daughter), age (young, e.g. infant, boy, girl), or 'condition' (slave, servant). The text of Matthew 8:5-13 does not clarify whether the ill person in the centurion's household is a son or servant, but since Roman military were not allowed to marry, and the Jewish elders thought the centurion honorable, 'servant' seems likely .

The centurion was one the most unlikely persons to amaze Jesus. He was a Gentile. Doubtless he had a pagan upbringing. He was a Roman, stationed in Palestine to subject the Jews to the Emperor's rule. He was a man of war. He achieved the rank of centurion by distinguishing himself above others in the brutal Roman martial arts.

by Martin G. Collins Forerunner, "Bible Study," January-February 2009. Capernaum is the scene of the healing of the centurion's servant (Matthew 8:5-13; Luke 7:1-10), as it is for one-third of the 33 recorded miracles that Christ performed. This one, performed shortly after the Sermon on the Mount, is one of only two miracles that He did in the presence of and for Gentiles.

Albinus is the son of a famous Centurion but he's nothing like his father..he's just not cut out to be a soldier and because of this the tension between them could be cut with a knife. Silus, Albinus's father, is retired and has set up a nice little place for his son and former colleagues to live out the rest of their days.

The Centurions Son

Healing the centurion's servant is one of the miracles said to have been performed by Jesus of Nazareth as related in the Gospel of Matthew and the Gospel of Luke (both part of the Christian biblical canon). The story is not recounted in the Gospels of either John or Mark. According to these accounts, a Roman centurion asks Jesus for his help because his servant is ill.

It is possible to translate the noun παῖς as “servant” or “son.”. In fact, John has son (υἱός), but Luke has “servant” (δοῦλος). It may be the case that the ambiguity of παῖς led to the different terms in Luke and John, and it is also possible the servant was so beloved by the centurion he considered him as a son.
